

Ethnography

Anthropological and Observational Techniques with a Wide Range of Applications

We often recommend Ethnography as a part of a broader project rather than as a methodology to use on its own because it's most effective with other methodologies to complete the big picture.

Ethnography is a direct, first-hand observation of the daily behavior of individuals, families or groups. Therefore, it offers insights unavailable from other sources and helps to better understand issues such as the disease impact on patients' lives, how decisions are made within an institution and how certain equipment is used, to name a few.

Ethnography findings provide an essential check on self reported results and provides a window into reality, far removed from the artificial environment of a research facility.

Our research is fully HIPAA compliant and 100% quality controlled to ensure accuracy and effectiveness of the conversations.

All HCP's are drawn from our HealthAcuity® panels and are fully practographically and psychologically profiled.
